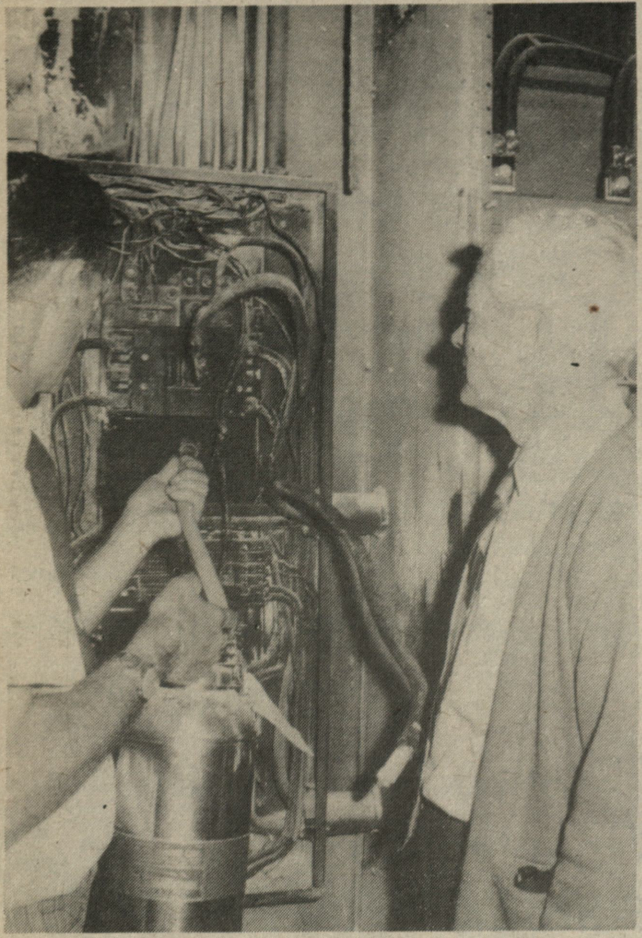
SUMMER PASTIME



UNSCHEDULED BLACK-OUT--Campbell post office was blacked out from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, July 18, and an electrician suffered third-degree burns in an electrical flash fire caused when the electrical panel was short-circuited.

Taken to the hospital with burns was Stanley Carver, an employee of Challenge Installation & Maintenance Co. of San Francisco, the firm that was installing a power lift at the rear loading dock. He remained in the hospital for several days.

Above Ed Peoples (left), postal clerk, who used a fire extinguisher on the flames, shows Glen Knowles, officer-in-charge of the post office, the burned out panel.

Quick action nabs suspect

The action of an alert store clerk brought about the arrest of a San Jose man here last Wednesday on charges of forgery, possession of stolen property and petty theft.

According to police reports the man entered Hamilton Liquors, 1700 S. Bascom Ave., Wednesday evening and used a credit card to pay for some $30 in liquor and cigarettes. Since the purchase was over $25 the clerk put in a call to verify the card and learned that it had been reported stolen earlier this month.

The clerk managed to stall the man until police could arrive after they were summoned by a member of the credit firm's security office.

Arrested at the scene was Michael F. Keenan, 30. Police found five other credit cards in his possession following his arrest.

JULY 25:

On this date in 1944, more than 2,400 bombers attacked German positions in front of the American lines at St. Lo during WW II in a three-hour period.

City may license apartments

By a 3-2 vote on Monday night the City Council directed that an ordinance on the licensing of apartment houses, patterned after the one adopted by Palo Alto, should be presented at a public hearing on September 24.

A study session on the proposed ordinance will be scheduled before the hearing.

Voting for the licensing of apartment houses, which emphasizes the non-discriminatory housing concept, on the motion by Councilman Rusty Hammer, were Vice-Mayor Norm Paul and Councilman Bill Podgorsek.

Opposed were Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Councilman Ralph Doetsch.

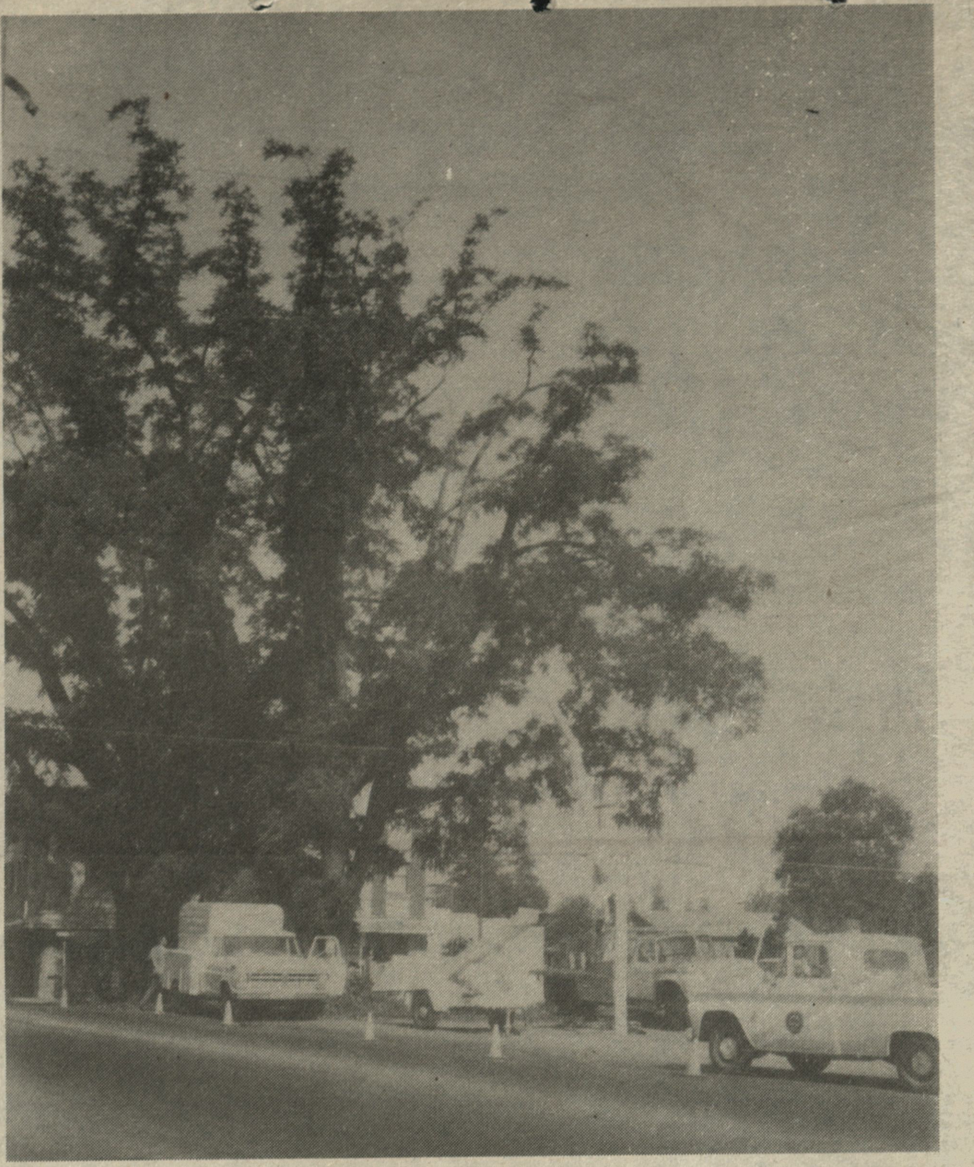
In carry-over actions from the goals committee recommendations, the City Council approved a study session within 60 days on the feasibility of the city purchasing the Campbell Water Co. and ruled that within 90 days a study session should be scheduled on the feasibility of a mini-bus system and mass transit planning.

In other related goals recommendations, by a 3-2 vote (Chamberlin and Doetsch opposing), the Council agreed to reconsider the controversial freeway sign ordinance in September and also agreed to discuss at the next meeting the ballot measure of whether the city treasurer's position should be appointive or elective.

Deferred until August 13 was the request of Saratoga that the county reconsider the sports arena project.

The Council approved the unique (for Campbell) three-sided sign for Bell Savings and Loan at Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Aquino Road and deferred until September any action on changing the name of "Jean Drive" to "Sharman Palms Lane."

Action on the request of West Valley Hiking Club to use the old engineering building was deferred for two weeks.



NEW LOOK--One of Campbell's landmarks (and part of the signature of "The Campbell Press") is sporting a new trim look these days. The tall oak tree at the corner of Harrison and Campbell Avenues got a face lift last week. According to Jim Cope, owner of Cope Tree Service, the tree is trimmed every four or five years.

NEXT MEETING, AUGUST 6

Planning Commission faces heavy agenda

There will be no Planning Commission meeting next Monday, July 30, (the fifth Monday) but when that body meets the following Monday, August 6, plans for five industrial buildings, a 53-unit cluster ter home development and a 50-unit motel are scheduled for the agenda.

George Van Sickle of Vanderson Company has submitted plans for three industrial buildings on Vandell Way; C. J. Toy is seeking approval of a building at 1150 Dell and Creative Industries have plans in for an industrial building at 101 Gilman Ave.

S.H.A.R.E. is seeking approval of a 53-unit cluster home development just west of San Tomas Expressway and east of Darryl Drive and Surber-Greenley is asking approval of a 50-unit motel at 1210 Camden Ave. Carrows Restaurant is on the property also.

Other items on the agenda include the application of a use permit for William Glover for a gymnastics school to be located at 1320 Dell Ave. and Dr. John Hughes has applied for a zone change from R-1-S to C-1-S on parcels at 44, 45 and 58 Rosemary.

On the agenda also is the request of Fred Chez who is requesting an extension on his development schedule on commercial property at 1871 and 1961 Pollard Road.

TOTAL TOPS $25 MILLION...UP $5.5 MILLION

Retail sales in Campbell show huge increase in first quarter

Campbell made another sensational increase in taxable retail sales during the first quarter this year going to $25 million, a gain of $5.5 million over the same three months in 1972.

Only five of the 15 cities in the county (San Jose, Santa Clara, Palo Alto, Sunnyvale and Mountain View) outgrossed Campbell in taxable sales for the first quarter this year.

Next to Campbell was Cupertino with $22.4 million, a $7.2 million increase over the previous year and Los Gatos with $20.3 million, a $3.1 million gain.

Los Altos followed with $12.7 million; Milpitas, $10.9 million; Gilroy, $10.3 million; Morgan Hill, $3.6 million; Saratoga, $2.4 million; Los Altos Hills, $474,000 and Monte Sereno, $11,000.

San Jose led the cities in the county in taxable sales with $278.6 million followed by Santa Clara with $82.1 million, Palo Alto with $69.7 million, Sunnyvale with $61.3 million, and Mountain View with $55.3 million.

GASOLINE TAX

Extension of the sales tax to gasoline was responsible for a large part of the increase.

In Campbell, for example, during the first quarter in 1972, the 47 service stations accounted for only $266,000 in taxable sales while in the first quarter this year, taxable sales for 43 stations soared to $2.5 million.

Statewide the taxable sales for the first quarter increased by 16.2% (without gasoline it would have been 8.9%). But in Campbell the increase was approximately 28% (without gasoline about 15%)!

Rising prices, according to the State Board of Equalization, accounted for about 4.3% of the upswing statewide but the year-to-year quarterly increase in the actual volume of goods sold has been constantly declining over the last five quarters from a high of 10.1% in the fourth quarter of 1971 to a low of 4.6% for the most recent quarter.

In the top spot in taxable sales in Campbell, as usual, was the home furnishing and appliance category with $5 million in taxable retail sales recorded as opposed to $3.1 million in the first quarter in 1972, an increase of almost $2 million, or about 60%.

BIG INCREASE

"Eating and drinking places" also showed a substantial gain, going from $2.2 million in 1972 to $3.08 million this year. (There were six more eating places reporting this year than last.)

"Building materials," one of the top leaders in Campbell in taxable sales, showed a slight decrease from the previous year dropping to $2,030,000 from $2,117,000, although there was one more outlet reporting this year than last.

"Food stores" went from $1.5 million in the first quarter of 1972 to $1.6 million in 1973. (There were two more food stores reporting this year.)

"General stores" dropped from $689,000 in 1972 to $645,000 in 1973. (There were three less stores of that type reporting this eyar.)

"Drug stores" went from $510,000 in 1972 to $579,000 in 1973 with 10 stores reporting each year. On the other hand, there were 10 more "apparel stores" (30 instead of 20) reporting this year and taxable sales went from $598,000 to $978,000.

"Liquor stores" increased to $595,000 from $544,000 with 12 stores reporting.

As usual, "auto dealers and auto supplies" in Los Gatos, a category that is virtually non-existent in Campbell, was the major taxable sales outlet. For the first three months this year, that category in Los Gatos accounted for $10 million in taxable sales, almost one half of all the sales ($20.3 million) for the first three months this year. Auto sales in Los Gatos for the quarter increased by almost $1 million from the previous year.

Although Campbell has an outstanding increase percentagewise from the previous year, Cupertino had even a better one, going from $15,280,000 to $22,419,000 this year in the first quarter.

"Double taxation" for county services draws fire of Campbell City Council

Why should the taxpayers of Campbell subsidize the police dispatching service for Los Gatos?

Campbell city councilmen don't like the idea at all.

In two unprecedented actions on Monday night, the City Council moved to get recourse from the county for alleged "double taxation" involving (1) the county fire marshal's office and (2) the emergency dispatching service.

OTHER CITIES

Following the action previously taken by the cities of San Jose, Santa Clara and Sunnyvale, a resolution was adopted by the City Council, pursuant to state legislation passed last year, requesting the assessed valuation in Campbell be exempted from supporting fire protection services (fire marshal).

Under this section of the government code, the county cannot (starting in 1973-74) levy against the assessed valuation of those cities which request exemption from that part of the general fund tax rate which goes to support the fire marshal's operation.

The basis of the law is that a fire service is already being provided by the city for its residents.

A second resolution was adopted unanimously by the City Council, under the same code section, asking that the City of Campbell assessed valuation be exempted from supporting the county communications system because it was also a duplicated city service.

City Attorney Bob Dempster informed the City Council that it was possible that the government code was only applicable to the fire protection service. If that was the case, Dempster pointed out, there would be no state legislation to latch onto for the "double taxation" relief.

FREE IN LOS GATOS

The matter came to a head when City Manager Bob Stephens reported that it has now been determined that the Town of Los Gatos is getting a "free ride" this year for the dispatching services furnished by the county.

The previous year, the charge for the same communication service under the county contract was estimated to be about $50,000. (Campbell's contract would have been about $90,000.)

Stephens noted that the Los Gatos budget shows that "utilities" in the police department budget, under which the communication item apparently is listed, shows a decrease of the $50,000 this year.

The city manager reports that the elimination of the communication charges for Los Gatos has been defended by the county supervisors based on a so-called "phasing out procedure."

COUNTY OFFER

This spring, Ralph Mehrkens, chairman of the county board of supervisors, announced at an Inter-City council meeting that the county planned to offer free dispatching services to ALL cities in the county, including San Jose, Palo Alto, Sunnyvale and Santa Clara.

Mehrkens said that the action was based on the state directive which specified that the "911" statewide emergency phone number was to be in operation by 1982. The supervisors felt that a countywide communication system therefore was necessary, but admitted it would take time to put it into effect.

Campbell, for almost 20 years, had contracted with the county for dispatching services for the police, fire and public works department.

CONTRACT GOES UP

However, when the county notified Campbell that the annual cost would be approximately $90,000 for the service, this city established its own system at a much lower cost figure.

Campbell's system has been operating for almost a year in the police department under the direction of Police Chief Don Burr.

Campbell councilmen are particularly irate over the fact that the "free service" was offered by the county to Los Gatos and other cities, after Campbell had its own system fully in operation.

The councilmen maintain that it is "double taxation" and that it is grossly unfair to finance the communication service from the same general tax which is paid by all county taxpayers, either within or outside cities.

The fire marshal issue is not as costly to the city, it was pointed out, but the same principle applies in both cases.

Assembly bill could add $683,675 to district funds

Campbell school trustees learned last Thursday that the local elementary school district should see an increase of $683,675 in basic apportionment due, in part, to the recent passage of Assembly Bill 1267.

Estimates of basic apportionment rose from $2,688,923 to $3,352,598, in a report issued by Dr. A. O. Bachelor, district business manager.

The revised operating budget submitted to trustees for study last week was $12,226,557, an increase of $296,409 over that adopted by trustees earlier this month. Public hearings and final adoption of the budget will take place in early August.

The reinstatement of restricted override taxes, brought about by AB 1267. is reflected in the revised budget. Unallocated Community Service override funds, totalling $164,484, were returned to restricted reserves. The surplus, brought about by unused Community Service funds in prior years, would have become part of the general fund if the bill had not passed.

Meals for the Needy funds, a total of $12,192 is listed in the revised budget. This program is also funded through a special override tax, .005 cents, which was recently reinstated.

Projected tax rate was set at 4.1403 which includes 2.4209 in general purpose funds; 1.006 in areawide levies, .2064 for the school building fund, .005 for the Meals for the Needy Program and .05 in Community Service funds. In addition, bond interest and redemption adds another .417 and the Children's Center program .035.

PUBLIC MEETING, AUGUST 7

Recreation program, loop financing divides Countil

Financing the downtown loop system and determining how far this city should get involved in the recreation field are two questions that are bothering the City Council as the annual budget deadline approaches.

Indications are that any answers that will be forthcoming will be from a divided City Council. But it is hoped that on Tuesday, August 7, at a public meeting of interested parties, some definite guidelines will be established.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch on Monday night reiterated a previous statement when he maintained that because of the activity in progress at the old Sunsweet plant (now called "The Factory"), he felt that work on the south loop should start immediately. Mayor Dean Chamberlin agreed in

SORT OF CLOSE

Just PLUGging along

A fire hydrant that has graced (?) the front lawn of the residence of Dennis L. Bennett, 847 Sunnypark Court, for some time is going to be moved. And the city will pick up the tab.

That was decided at the City Council meeting Monday night.

But whether it will be moved around the corner in the parkway on Virginia Avenue or 10-feet from its present location will depend on certain conditions, specifically, if the other underground utilities will not interfere with all the fixings and stuff that go with a fire hydrant.

The decision to move the fire plug was made after a lengthy discussion by the Council and a personal appearance by Bennett, who also had submitted a letter describing the situation in detail.

In addition, almost every councilman indicated that he had visited the site.

Involved also were City Manager Bob Stephens, Fire Chief Gene Borden and Bill Wren and Frank Lewis of the public works department.

Bennett, in his letter, suggested that it was poor planning in the first place that allowed the installation of the fire hydrant in his front lawn.

He submitted that the hydrant now is only 6½-inches from the edge of his driveway which makes backing up sort of tricky for visitors. He also added that he envisioned workers who would drain the fire plug standing knee-deep in his lawn.

A sympathetic City Council apparently agreed with Bennett that it was poor planning and directed that the plug be moved.

And at city's expense.

Anti-rabies clinic to take place at health department

A low-cost anti-rabies vaccination clinic will be held Saturday, July 28 from 2-4 p.m. at Santa Clara County Health Dept., 2220 Moorpark avenue, San Jose.

The clinic is sponsored by the Santa Clara Valley Veterinary Medical Association and the Santa Clara County Health Department.

According to State law, Santa Clara County is a rabies area in which all dogs four months of age and older must be vaccinated and licensed. As an added convenience, licenses valid in all areas within Santa Clara County, except Palo Alto, may be purchased at the clinic at the time of vaccination.

Cost of the vaccination is $2 and must be repeated every two years.

Licenses for spayed females or neutered males are $4. Licenses for unaltered dogs are $6.

Individuals obtaining a license for an altered animal, not previously licensed, must have a signed statement from their veterinarian indicating that the animal has been spayed or neutered.

Further information is available by contacting the Santa Clara County Health Department, telephone 998-5211.

Agencies work together to keep youngsters out of institutions

Detour ahead! Two Santa Clara County agencies are working together in a unique program to deter youngsters from institutional placement.

According to Bob Carroll, director of the Del Valle Day Center in San Jose, the Center is administered by the Juvenile Probation Department with the School Department running the educational portion of the program.

The Day Center is an experimental co-ed program, funded by Santa Clara County and the Federal government, with an overall goal of diverting children from institutional placement.

AGES 13-18

The children at the Center, aged 13-18, continue to live at home during their stay at the Center. They are transported by the County to and from the Center, which is located at 2275 Camden Avenue.

Can anyone come to the Center? Not according to Carroll. These children have all appeared before the Juvenile Court.

"If the probation officer recommends out-of-home placement for the youngster, then his case appears before the Resource Review Board," related Carroll. If the minor is able to return home and is not a serious threat to the community, his case may be selected by the Board for the Day Center.

WEEKLY REVIEW

A team of workers from the Juvenile Probation Department and the School Department meet on a weekly basis to develop and review goals for each youngster.

According to Gary Flynn, head teacher at the Center, each minor receives very personal instruction. With students at different learning levels, it is necessary that they receive individual counseling and educational tutoring. This is one of the reasons the two agencies work so close together; to set vocational and educational goals for the children and to work on individual deficiencies.

A normal school schedule for a youngster at the Center includes academic subjects in the morning; community living, physical education, and electives in the afternoon. With the school nearly two years old, Flynn believes that the educational program has been successful.

GOALS

"We have several goals in mind," commented Flynn, "including getting the children back into the regular educational system. making the learning process enjoyable, accepting each and every student at his or her level, and seeing that all students succeed in their classes."

Carroll noted that the combined efforts of counseling and schooling at the Center, help decrease recurring delinquency among the children and also improves the family situation.

The children at the Center also participate in community enrichment activities which are viewed as essential by both Carroll and Flynn.

Among other cultural activities, the youngsters have gone to Big Basin, Santa Cruz Beach, The Sound of Music, Godspell, and to different colleges in the area.

ARTS AND CRAFTS--These young people are participating in an arts and crafts class at the Del Valle Day Center in San Jose. They make leather purses, belts, wallets, and other items in their class. The Day Center is administered by the Santa Clara County Juvenile Probation Department.

West Valley sets final registration deadline

More than half of West Valley College's anticipated student enrollment for the fall semester will register by mail, according to Don Ziegler, dean of admissions and records.

Students on the dean's list, those day students with 25 or more units and continuing evening students are currently receiving a class schedule through the mail.

All new evening students, as well as new day students who have already completed 25 units at another school, may register by mail by picking up a registration packet at the admissions and records office beginning Thursday, July 26.

All students must return the packets by August 10, and classes are then filled on a first come, first served basis.

Ziegler noted it is anticipated that some 8,000 students will be registered by this method.

Those students not qualifying for registration by mail or who fail to take advantage of this method, will have to register in person Sept. 4, 5 and 6 at the Saratoga campus center. It is expected that more than 6,000 students will be involved in this registration process.

All students interested in enrolling at the college this fall must make application to the college by August 11. Those students interested in evening courses only should make application and pick up a mail registration schedule after July 26.

The admissions and records office is now located at 14000 Fruitvale Ave., Saratoga. Further information may be obtained by calling that office at 867-2200.

Keeping cool during the hot summer afternoons

SUMMER SCENE--Each afternoon, Monday through Friday, hundreds of area youngsters (and adults) cool off with a dip in one of the high school swimming pools. Pictured above is the Westmont High School pool.

COOLING DIVE--In addition to the swimming instruction classes being conducted at local high school pools, recreational swimming is offered each afternoon, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Above, a young lady dives into the Westmont High School pool.

"BRONZE PEANUT" SHOW-- David Ogle, West Valley College art instructor, stares pensively at the silicon bronze peanut he introduced to the art world in 1967. This peanut, along with other material relating to his bronze peanuts, will be on display at the Richard Sumner Art Gallery in Palo Alto July 29-Aug. 25. The gallery is located at 415 University Ave., Palo Alto. Gallery hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturdays.

New agency protects rights of children

An agency which looks out for the rights of children in divorce and custody battles has moved its offices into the recently refurbished County courthouse on San Jose's North First Street.

This is the Special Investigation Unit of the County Juvenile Probation Department. The unit has moved from the Juvenile Center on Guadalupe Parkway to the Courthouse to be closer to the Superior Courts and judges which handle child custody matters.

Supervisor John Wardle, probation officer I, explained that his unit serves the Domestic Relations Court. He feels his unit is the Children's advocate in a very real way.

"We provide special services to the court in civil investigations involving the welfare of children," commented Wardle.

These services include investigations and recommendations for stepparent adoptions, guardianships, and divorce cases in which a contest occurs between parents as to the custody of the children.

Wardle said that in dealing with these various cases, the best interests of the children are always a major factor in determining a minor's future.

"Our goal in these cases is to provide the minor with the most stable environment possible," he said. He added, "You might say that we're the children's advocate in these cases because the children are often caught in the middle of a situation without a defense."

All custody investigations are initiated by a court order to see if the dispute can be settled through mediation. However, this peace making effort is done without a formal court hearing.

Unfortunately, mediation is not always successful. If it isn't, the Unit steps in to carry out a special investigation of the case.

"For example," said Wardle, "if a divorced couple is having difficulties regarding visitation rights, then the court may ask us to investigate to determine what the visitation rights should be."

Another function of the Special Investigation Unit is to cooperate with other counties and states in "half-custody" cases.

"In other words," said Wardle, "we may ask Orange County in Southern California to do a custody investigation of a parent for us."

These types of special investigations occur because the parents involved in the custody investigations may live apart in different areas of the state or nation.

Commenting that this work can be emotional and exciting, Wardle said that the eight people on the staff work hard together to serve the court and their clients.

"The staff here are experts in their field," related Wardle. "But, they have to be," he added, "because they're dealing with people's lives and futures."

Cerebral Palsy group joins the United Fund

In a joint statement the Santa Clara County United Fund and the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Santa Clara County, Inc. (UCPA) have announced the admission of the UCPA to membership in the Fund and participation in the 1973 campaign.

The agency maintains three Developmental Day Care Centers in the county that serve about 50 families per year and are located in Santa Clara, East San Jose, and West San Jose.

Clarence E. Frizzell, vice-president IBM and president of the United Fund, was enthusiastic in his welcome of the agency into membership of the Fund. Said Frizzell, "As a business man and a community volunteer I know that it makes good sense for United Cerebral Palsy to be a member of the Fund and we are most pleased to welcome them into our family of agencies."

He went on to point out that the agency runs a comprehensive program of information, referral, follow-along and coordination in regard to existing services for the handicapped. The Developmental Day Care Centers are for multihandicapped children from birth to three years of age, where the total development of the child is promoted through individual activities that try to meet the needs of the child and its family.

Assistance is also given with avocational activities for the handicapped adult. The agency is particularly active in the development and distribution of literature and information for the general public and professionals in the medical field.

Donald C. Edson, president of UCPA, emphasized the fact the recruitment of volunteer leadership and support and that the agency could now devote its full energies to client services in Santa Clara County.

OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

IN THIS COLUMN LAST WEEK WE CHIT–CHATTED about the report that Mrs. Velma Olds, city treasurer, made to the City Council recently about her trip to Europe with her husband, Dr. Corwin Olds, pastor emeritus of the Congregational Church.

Specifically, Velma told about their visit to Vohburg, Germany, a sort of inactive sister city of Campbell.

In her report, Mrs. Olds pointed out that the Vohburg-Campbell sister city relationship was pretty dormant at this time.

She suggested that, if the sister city idea was rejuvenated, so to speak, a sister-city in Scotland would seem to have more appeal because of the historical background of this community. The Campbells who founded this town originated in Scotland.

And the Campbell clan is one of the best known in Scotland today.

There is a "Campbelltown" in Scotland. (It is a seaport in west Scotland, population 7169.)

We concede that having a Scottish town as a sister city seems to be quite logical.

But first it must be established that having a sister city serves any useful purpose.

Especially, "at this point in time," that is.

Have you seen how the dollar has been acting up lately overseas?

AS A CONVERTIBLE FAN, OF SOME YEARS STANDing, we were saddened recently to read that another of the big domestic automobile manufacturers had decided to stop making convertibles.

We gathered that the main reason the auto people were quitting the convertible field was because the car buyers were demanding air conditioning in their models.

Convertibles, of course, have their own built-in air conditioners.

However, they are dependent on natural climatic and atmospheric conditions.

Apparently the modern day car buyer prefers to control the temperature on his own without depending on Mother Nature.

The foreign car manufacturers, we understand, probably will continue to make convertibles.

Air conditioning doesn't seem quite so important to them.

AS WE SAID, WE WERE SADDENED TO LEARN THAT er
another era had come to an end.

And there must be others who feel the same way. (But not enough to carry an appreciable weight among the Detroit brass, apparently.)

We noted in the news story about the convertibles that when the last one (Ford) rolled off the line, a collector of rare cars was on hand to pick it up.

That ought to tell us drivers of convertibles something.

Shortly after reading about the demise (almost) of the American convertible, we were at the post office.

By one of those strange quirks, four convertibles turned out of the parking lot in line and rolled down the street. That was the largest number of convertibles we had seen together for a long, long time.

Even if we had not just read about Ford giving up on 'em, we would have been impressed by the lineup.

By the way, three of the four convertibles were of foreign make.

We suppose that tells us something, too.

GOOD TRAINING (?). WE COULDN'T HELP THINKING that a young mother was doing a real disservice to her little youngsters the other day when, holding a tyke in either hand, she darted across Campbell Avenue in the middle of the block.

Admittedly, it was more convenient to do that than to go to the crosswalk at the corner (about 25-feet away) and, of course, the cars did stop for her.

But we thought it was a lousy trick and very thoughtless on the part of the mother to expose her kids in that way to the traffic hazards that exist.

Lord only knows that they will learn soon enough that traffic conditions are bad even when one obeys traffic regulations.

It was inexcusable, in our opinion, for the mother to jaywalk on Campbell Avenue with the added responsibility of her two children.

With the traffic the way it is today on Campbell Avenue, we are not at all sure that even the crosswalks are safe.

Say, for example, between four and six p.m. when it is bumper-to-bumper from the PruneYard to Winchester.

SPEAKING OF CAMPBELL AVENUE (WE WERE, weren't we?), the downtown loop system is again in the spotlight as the City Council rehashes the long-pending situation and tries to find the proper method of financing the project.

In addition, it appears that the councilmen may not be in complete agreement as to the basic concept of the loop system in the first place.

A majority of the current council were not in office when the loop system (parallel streets on both sides of Campbell Avenue) concept was approved and the plan lines for the loop streets first established.

So, we suppose, those who weren't around then are not as eager to get rolling as those who have been exposed to the problem for a much longer period. (Our exposure has been for quite a spell.)

We have threatened to go back to our files and re-run the editorials that we wrote in 1957-58-59 about Campbell Avenue.

With few changes those editorials could stand today.

Our theme then was that Campbell Avenue created a traffic problem because it carried more traffic than it was built for.

It was too narrow and that alternate routes or streets had to be developed to take some of the load off the inadequate street.

We maintained then that something just had to be done about that street soon or it would be a major civic headache.

AND that was 16 years ago.

While we concede that a major City Council decision is involved in deciding how the loop system is to be financed and which loop (north or south) should be built first, we feel that the concept has been well established and now only the mechanics remain as to how it should be implemented.

We certainly hope that we don't have to wait another 16 years for that.

THERE HAS BEEN A LOT OF FLACK FLYING AROUND lately relative to the fact that San Jose City Council has prohibited smoking in the council chambers and the supervisors apparently are going to follow suit for their quarters.

Holy smokes, why the big fuss?

And, quite frankly, we like the idea.

But we didn't at first.

That was before we quit smoking.

FREEWAY-ORIENTED SIGNS HAVE CAUSED SOME problems with the official city bodies in recent months.

After much study and controversy, you may recall, a City Council policy, which prohibited such signs, was rescinded.

A new ordinance was adopted after considerable hassling, which allows freeway-oriented signs if approved by the City Council.

The sign application must first go to the Planning Commission for recommendation.

The freeway-signs are supposedly only for identification purposes and not for advertising, a differentiation that becomes a little bleary at times.

Like in the case for Gold Key furniture.

The application for the sign on the freeway sign of the huge furniture complex included the word "furniture."

Following the recommendation of the Planning Commission, the council approved the sign without "furniture" and reduced the size of the letters.

You may recall that the Council was badly divided on the issue and the approval of the modified sign barely squeaked by after many motions of one kind or another.

So you can imagine how startled the councilmen were when the sign company representative announced, right after the 3-2 vote, that an application for approval of the same sign had been filed again.

And sure enough, the application appeared on the next Planning Commission agenda.

And the Commission, in order to "clear the record" had to act on the same sign that the City Council had approved the week before!

An unbelievable exercise in futility and redundancy.

Editorial

The "loops" again

Interest again centers on Campbell's downtown loop system as the City Council moves toward adoption of the final budget in August and the setting of the city's tax rate.

A number of roadblocks seem to have developed that could delay the long-pending project getting underway.

There is a possibility, remote as it might seem at the present time, that these so-called "road-blocks" could conceivably scuttle the entire project.

The City Council has approved the concept of the downtown loop system, after prior recommendations from the Planning Commission, and has established plan lines for the two streets that will run parallel to Campbell Avenue from Railway Avenue to Third St.

While we concede that no proposed plan for downtown Campbell or the improvement of Campbell Avenue in the downtown area has ever received the unanimous support of any civic body, whether official or unofficial in nature, we submit that the downtown loop system has been officially adopted, after many public hearings and countless hours of discussion.

We suggest also that enough time has elapsed since the official adoption (approximately five years) to allow for the matter to be thoroughly explored as to priorities and financing and that there should be action now rather than more delays.

We base this conclusion on the fact that the downtown loop system provided one of the major items for citizen involvement and discussion during almost all of 1968.

We note that the same questions that are arising today about financing and other aspects were presented in 1968 and apparently answered well enough then so that the plan was approved.

The loop system concept was presented in January, 1968 by representatives of Management Economics Research, Inc. (MERI), who developed the '701' general plan for the city.

Methods of financing the project were included in the report.

We note also that throughout the entire year the loop system concept was the subject of discussion in the city with both pro and con groups having their say. (It was emphasized then [1968] that the construction could be completed in five years.)

Records show also that in February, 1968, the downtown loop concept was endorsed by the second annual Congress for Community Progress and that there was a city council election in April of that year.

Each one of the six council candidates in that election were asked by The Press: "Do you favor the development of the downtown core on Campbell Avenue following the modified "mall" plan with the so-called north-south loop system." Every one of the candidates favored the concept.

The Planning Commission and the City Council officially endorsed the loop system in October of 1968.

We are reporting this history to emphasize that the idea was firmed up five years ago and a portion of the north loop has already been built (past the city hall).

We submit that if the loop system is NOT going to be developed there is a definite need for clarification of the situation.

Or a credibility gap could develop.

"FOLLIES" OPENS

Music Theater's Summer Teenage Workshop will present the Northern California premiere of "Follies" on Friday, July 27, in the Montgomery Theater. It will be a different kind of play with music and lyrics by Stephen Sondhiem.

For ticket information, call 286-6841. Campbell graduates Tom Gabbord, Lynn Eldridge, Laurie Bryant play key roles.

"PAINT YOUR WAGON"

Campbell High's summer musical workshop will open Lerner and Loewe's "Paint Your Wagon" on Wednesday night. Such songs as "I Talk to the Trees" and "They Call the Wind Maria" are featured. The play will be performed through Saturday.

The kids have changed guests for the dress rehearsals with San Jose Unified's cast of "Funny Girl" which opens on August 1. The "Funny Girl" cast came last night to "Wagon" final dress and then "Wagon's" cast will see "Funny Girl" next Tuesday night.

"1776" OPENED

The outstanding factor in the current "1776" are the small roles that make the play work. Especially outstanding were John H. Hauser, Brian Mann, E. W. Hill, Terry Walker and William Protchik.

There are so many actors in town that only measure a role by the amount of lines that they have and therefore miss out on the venture of trying something new.

Many of the town's so called "leading" actors and actresses are going to find themselves with no parts if they continue to accept nothing but lead roles.

HERE AND THERE

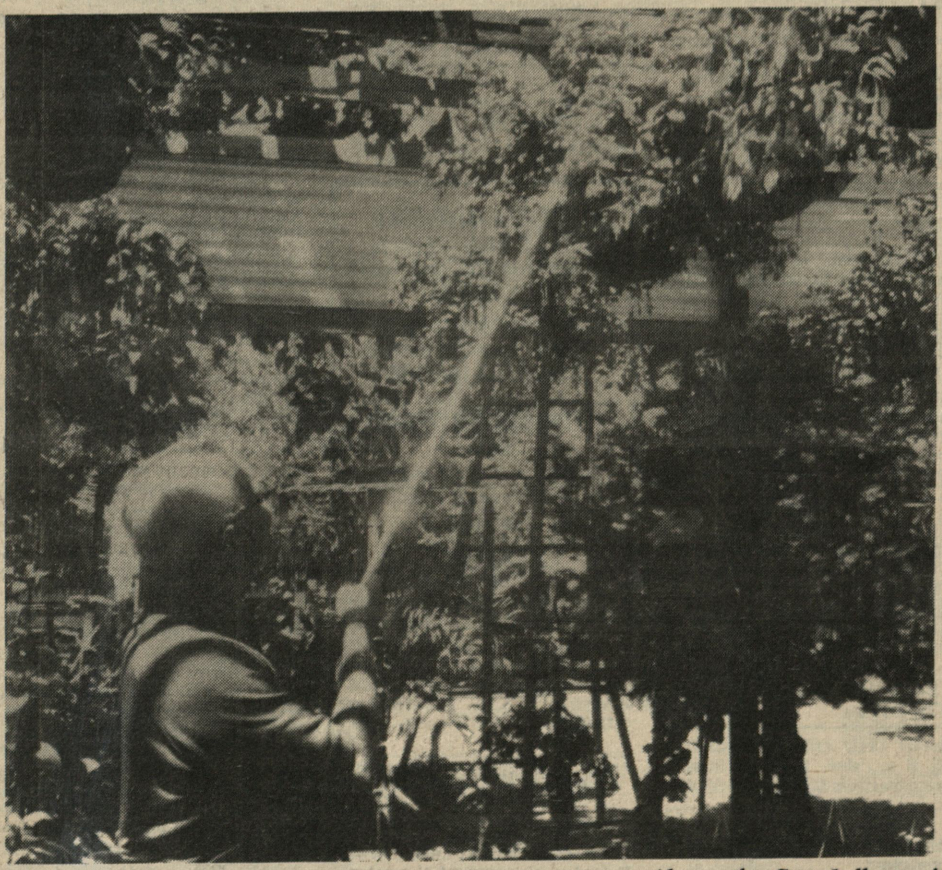
Those groups who use the Saratoga Civic Theater have met and proposed a new schedule for their productions next season...Rehearsals for Saratoga's "Fiddler" will get underway on August 12 for an October 12 opening...William Protchik, who designed the set for "1776" will do the same for "Birdie"...

Arlene Thorson and Joe Riso became Mr. and Mrs. last week. They are both currently in "Desert Song" up next for West Valley...Following "Seven Year Itch" for ART will be the classic mystery, "Night Must Fall"... Loved Nick Lickwar's current manager of the Community Theater, comment in a news article that "Local groups were not prepared for the professionalism required in a large, first-class theater. Professional rules and regulations required in a major theater were not easily accepted. The fact that performing in a large, luxurious theater is an extremely expensive proposition was, and still is, not accepted."...I wonder how many groups he has seen and talked to...Maybe the theater will be fixed by next year so Music Theater will be able to perform its "My Fair Lady" there.



AFTER THE FROST--While last winter's deadly freeze played havoc with most local gardens, Andy Cracolice, 1088 E. Campbell Ave., was particularly hard hit. A fushia enthusiast and grower, Andy lost over 90 per cent of the hundreds of plants he grows in his backyard greenhouse. Above, the Campbell man is shown tending his new supply. "I've lived here since the early 1900's," Andy said, "and that's the coldest its ever been."

On this date in 1909, Louis Bleriot of France became the first person to fly across the English Channel, starting from Les Barraques, France, and landing at Dover, England.

This match can still burn a forest.

This one can't. 10 seconds made the difference.

In the forest, no match is 'out'' until it's cold. Neither is a cigarette. Nor a campfire. Nine out of ten forest fires are caused by people who forget this. Please—only you can prevent forest fires.

We can do more for you than any other bank.

(even if you can't find the scissors)

You see, we have more services than other banks. You won't use them all. But it's nice to know you're covered. The more important ones are described below.

Simplified monthly statement:

This statement simplifies balancing your checking account. We call it the Timesaver® Statement.

Three ways to finance your car:

Ask your auto dealer about our Auto-Magic Financing, the rock-bottom monthly payment plan. Or about leasing.

Then there's our regular auto loan. We've made more of them than any other bank in California. See your dealer or local Bank of America.

Personal Choice Checking and Savings:

We have four checking plans to choose from. And we offer many different savings plans. Our regular savings account gives you in-and-out flexibility. And our three new Investors Passbooks earn you 6½% annually for a two and one-half year account, 6% for one year, 5½% annual interest for 90 days. $500 minimum deposit.

They can also sign up for trips to Fort Ord, Almaden Air Force Station, or Moffett Field to attend dances on base.

Any girl who would like to join should apply personally at USO any day after 3:30 p.m. It is located on the City Plaza, corner Market and San Carlos Streets, directly across from the San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Drive launched to get rid of "death traps"

A drive to rid Santa Clara County of "death traps," potential killers in the form of abandoned iceboxes, refrigerators and freezers, will be conducted throughout the month of August by Handicapped War Veterans Crafts and Salvage Shops, Inc., 1082 Alviso St., it was announced this week by HWV manager Gus Rodriguez.

Persons who know of unused refrigerators should call HWV at 296-2553 for a truck to pick up the appliances without charge.

Since HWV first originated the county-wide drive ten years ago, no lives have been lost accidentally in abandoned iceboxes, Rodrigues said. Refrigerators that can no longer be used are dismantled by the removal of doors, and then they are scrapped.

"Your Child Trusts You," a pamphlet printed by the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers and dealing with the dangers of allowing unused iceboxes to tempt small children, is available at the HWV store.

Bringing up fido

By Sally Howe

Some of Fido's friends say that their owners are always calling the veterinarian. Others say that they can get so sick that they can't walk and still no one appears to care.

So Fido asked me to give you some views on "when to call the doctor."

First of all, the canine world (and the feline world) have a little harder row to hoe in that they do have a communication problem with us--or maybe it's us that has the communication problem. Anyway, Fido can't tell us when he's sick.

However, if we're taking reasonably good care of him, then we're in pretty close contact with him and should notice when he varies from his normal behavior.

Vomitting, diarrhea, sneezing, choking, coughing, stiffness, lameness are all cause for alarm. By the same token, some unusual scratching after office hours can probably wait as can a bump which you found on the leg which wasn't there two weeks ago.

Because of the high incidence of night calls by dog owners, veterinarians, in self-defense or whatever, have more and more resorted to making use of emergency clinics or have their answering service inform callers that night calls must of necessity pay a premium.

Can you take your dog's temperature? It isn't difficult to do. The average dogs runs somewhere between 100° and 102°.

It's not uncommon for the veterinarian to answer the phone at 11 a.m. to talk to a client whose dog has not been feeling well for several days. Instead of reaching the doctor during office hours, the client has been hoping that the problem would "go away."

However, a question he may ask is "what's the dog's temperature?" How long ago did he eat? Is he eliminating without difficulty? If you're taking the trouble to call the doctor, then you should consider the illness to be an emergency and be prepared to meet the veterinarian at his office or go to the emergency clinic he designates. A call "just for information" isn't proper at midnight, but if you suspect that the dog needs immediate attention, then don't hesitate to make it. Remember, your veterinarian is also a humanitarian and he doesn't want your pet to suffer either.

Waldie seeks local support

Temporary officers have been chosen to direct the local campaign in Jerry Waldie's bid to win the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1974.

Ed Weisenreder and Dorothy Alexander are serving as co-chairmen.

Plans are now being made for future fund raising activities to support the campaign.

Those interested in helping with the Waldie campaign are urged to call the Waldie for Governor number, 378-1974.

The "sounds of music" can be heard at Campbell School each morning

While many of us are sleeping late during the long summer days, at least 265 Campbell youngsters board the school bus early each morning toting their violin, trumpet or cello.

The Summer Music Program, sponsored by the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, meets each morning, Monday through Friday, at Campbell Elementary School.

CONCERT

The results of these weeks of practice can be heard at the Thursday, August 2, concert at the San Jose Civic Auditorium. The performance begins at 7:30 p.m. and admission is free. The auditorium is located at the corner of Market and San Carlos in San Jose.

Morning sessions are divided into four parts. Individual instruction, recreation activities and a free period are all scheduled in addition to group musical instruction.

DIRECTOR

Ed Tonini is again serving as director of the music program. Instructors include: Albert Alarid, Dave Dunton, Wallace Johnson, Gilda Mazzanti, William Resch, Davis Steele, Jr., and Ken Taylor.

Sherree Young is serving as an instructional assistant while Don Bryant serves as director of the recreational program assisted by Lorene Bryant.

LOCAL GIRL--Shawn Harper (right) of Campbell is assisting choreographer Diane Blake (center) in the San Jose Unified Schools' production of "Funny Girl" which opens on Wednesday, August 1 and plays for four performances through August 4 in the Willow Glen High School Cafeteria. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Also in the picture is Beth Buell.

"1776"

A "stirring musical"

by Steve Rockwell

"1776" is a stirring musical that is well worth catching.

The Tony and Drama Circle Award winning musical opened in the Los Gatos Prentiss Brown Auditorium to a near capacity audience on Friday night and is scheduled to run weekends through August 4.

The story covers the problems and elements dealing with the signing of the Declaration of Independence. History, through music and drama, unfold on the outstanding set designed by William Protchik.

All technical elements in the production are first rate led by the light design by Wick Musson, choreography by Andrea Hitch, costumes by Jeannie Traina and Harriette Hill, properties by Peggy Parson, all under the direction of Jack Parsons, as technical director.

Of special interest was the program design by Cathy Spielberger and Sally Howe. It was not only clever but also very informative to read. It was a newspaper with articles that all related to this play or to community theater in general. A keepsake for any playgoer.

The ensemble acting was of top quality. All roles were handled with both skill and understanding. In the difficult leading role of John Adams, G. Leslie Muchmore had the dynamic energy to keep the wordy play from falling into boredom, which could easily have happened in this vehicle. He never disappoints his audience and maintains a fast pace.

In other words, it is an exceptional performance on the local boards.

In contrast to Muchmore's protagonistic role, James Kinney as the antagonistic John Dickenson was also outstanding. He had every inflection and every movement down to perfection. When these two confront each other, the result is vibrant.

Other major roles handled with both ease and charm were Robert McKay as Ben Franklin, Dennis Drew as Thomas Jefferson, C. Burr Nisson as Richard Henry Lee, and Steve Reynolds as the custodian Andrew McNair. In the singing department, Jo Ann and Richard Vine were overwhelming. In the "Molasses to Rum" number, Vine surpasses his previous singing roles in bringing the true meaning of slavery to the awareness of the northern representatives. Young Rick Vine also possessesa nice innocent quality in his "Momma, Look Sharp."

The presentation is not without fault. There were some orchestrational problems as well as some technical mistakes, but those can sometimes, and many times happen after a show has been running for a long time. The well rehearsed large orchestra demonstrated accuracy with a very difficult score. The leadership of Patricia McCaughey showed a strong control over her musicians. Also her tempos were good.

The show has an outstanding finale and there is no curtain call, much to the dismay of the audience. The final tableau is one of the most beautiful things I have ever seen.

The musical drama will run through August 4. For ticket information call 264-5497.

Singers still needed for "Bye, Bye Birdie" chorus

Phoenix Productions will hold additional auditions for their summer musical, "Bye, Bye Birdie" on Sunday, July 29, at 1:30 p.m. in the Los Gatos High School Auditorium.

Chorus parts are still open for all ages, according to director Peter David Heth.

"Birdie" will open on September 28 and play through October 20. It is the third production in a series of summer musicals which included "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "1776," which is now playing.

For more information regarding Phoenix Productions, call 578-2784.

Dance theater

Gloria Vauges Mohr, Campbell ballet teacher, will portray "The Defiant," aspect of Sarah Winchester's character in the San Jose Dance Theatre production, "Sarah," premiering Friday, August 3, at 8 p.m. in the San Jose Civic Auditorium.

The full length dance drama is based on the legend of Sarah Winchester, builder of the Winchester Mystery House.

Three shorter performances will also be performed at the one-night-only engagement.

Tickets are $5 for tables to include champagne, punch and snacks, $3 and $2 for dress circle and balcony seats. Tickets are available at the San Jose Box Office, 246-1160, the Peninsula Box Office and at all Macy's stores.

Local man on the scene

One young man from the Campbell area is right in the midst of the current controversy over gas and oil supplies throughout the country.

Charles Naegele, 1098 S. Genieve Lane, is conducting research on the availability of gas and oil for Representative Bob Eckhardt of Texas in Washington, D.C.

Naegele, a senior at the University of California, Berkeley, is serving as one of 69 student interns from the campus.

The Cal-in-the-Capital Program, now in its eighth year, places a number of junior, senior and graduate students as temporary aides in the offices of senators and representatives. Others go to agencies, both federal and private, ranging from the Department of Justice to the National Collection of Fine Arts.

Internships may involve ghost-writing speeches and articles, editing and evaluating reports, attending policy meetings, clerical assignments or, in Naegele's case, conducting research.

Son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Naegele and the second oldest of six children, Charles is majoring in Communications and Public Policy at Berkeley.

Junior royalty contest set

July 28 is the date the Junior King and Queen of the 29th annual Santa Clara County Fair, August 17-26, will be crowned to preside over the two Kid's Days, August 21 and 24.

The deadline to enter the contest is July 27. Boys and girls, ages 9-13, who are Santa Clara County residents, may apply at the Fairgrounds, 344 Tully Rd., San Jose, or phone 295-3050. Judging will be based on personality, voice quality, talent, photogenic appeal and overall impression.

New county road workers find their job "fun and exciting"

Four teenage girls hired by the Santa Clara County Public Works Department to direct traffic at road work sites may make road construction a bit more pleasing for motorists. They are the first females ever hired by this County in road construction.

FRIENDLY ADVICE--Terri Marcolina, 18, of Almaden Valley, advises motorists to slow down due to road repair. Miss Marcolina is one of the first females hired by the County to work on road construction.

The group are part of the County's Summer Help program which allows students to work during their summer vacations.

WARNING

The girls flag down motorists to warn them of road conditions during construction and repair. They also caution motorists to be careful of machinery working ahead of them.

Ray Hill, County road foreman thinks the girls will work out better than men because they're more receptive to the motorists.

"I think they are certainly more pleasant," said Hill.

"EXCITING"

The girls, Leslee Haas, 19, and Rosie Valenzuela, 18, both of Santa Clara, and Terri Marcolina, 18, and Melinda De Leon, 18, of San Jose find their new jobs "fun and exciting."

"We're not womens libbers," stated Miss Haas on behalf of the girls, "we're definitely feminists."

"I want to be a wife and raise children," added Miss Haas, a freshman Law Enforcement major at De Anza College.

"You meet a lot of nice people out here," said Miss De Leon, freshman business major at De Anza College.

Miss Marcolina is also planning to attend De Anza College but has no set major as yet.

COMPASSION

One passing motorist felt sorry for the girls working in 80-degree weather and gave them each an ice-cold soft drink.

Asked if they would like to make this a lifetime career Miss Valenzuela replied, "Sure if the pay is right, but I don't think I'd like to do it for ever and ever."

Miss De Leon thinks "just for the summer," is fine with her.

"Follies" opens this weekend

"Follies," with a cast of 55 teenagers and five adult guest artists, opens Friday, July 27 at the Montgomery Theater in San Jose. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for the San Jose Music Theatre sponsored production.

Marie Stinnett, professional choreographer and dance instructor with studios in Campbell, is busy rehearsing dancers for the summer teenage production which runs for six weekend performances through August 5.

Assisting her is Jeff Risk, 20, a graduate of Campbell High School and West Valley College, whose future plans include teaching and professional theater.

For ticket information phone the San Jose Music Theatre at 286-6841.

BECKY CAMPOS

Becky travels

Vice-chairman of the Youth Commission, Becky Campos, has been in Europe since early July as part of the Foreign Study League. She is presently in Rome, where an audience with the Pope is scheduled today and then on to Madrid, Spain, August 1 before returning to the United States.

Becky, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campos, 819 Chapman Drive, will enter West Valley College this fall. She is also a member of the City Council Steering and Goals Committee.

England, France and Austria were the first stops on the month-long trip. Accompanying the group of 40 students is Bro. Allan De Long, principal at Mitty High School.

One of the highlights of Becky's trip, according to her mother, Anita Campos, was running into four American movie stars while in London. Spotting several limousines, the girls went over to investigate and found actors Bert Reynolds, Gregory Peck, Michael Cain and Roger Moore were fellow visitors at the Picadilly Circus.

Double ring ceremony

MR. and MRS. THOMAS E. WIGHT

Thomas E. Wight claimed Linda Elaine Rush as his bride in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Thomas Ahern at the Sacred Heart Church of Saratoga.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Rush of Saratoga. She received her teaching credential from San Jose State University in 1972 and taught at the Redwood Glen Outdoor Education School.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Wight of Campbell, is a business major at San Jose State University and is employed by a local service station as assistant manager.

Linda, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding day a traditional style white nylon organza gown trimmed in alencon lace and featuring a full train. A shoulder length bouffant veil with a petal effect headpiece completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies, cascading marguerites and baby's breath.

The bride's sister, Jo Ann Pisapia of San Jose, attended her as matron of honor. Linda Wight, of Chico, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid. The attendants were gowned alike in long sleeved floor length yellow dresses with a floral trim at the neckline and bodice. They wore wide brimmed yellow hats and carried baskets of daisies, marguerites, ferns and straw flowers.

Joe Pisapia of San Jose served as best man. Guests were seated by Roger Somer of San Jose. Ring bearer for the ceremony was George Judd of Saratoga. Vocal selections were offered by Barry D. Brown of San Francisco, who also played the guitar.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rush chose a pink floral print blouse and pink polyester floor length jumper. She wore a gardenia corsage, as did Mrs. Wight, mother of the groom, who was outfitted in a long lavender, purple and white floral design dress.

A buffet luncheon at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

After a honeymoon trip to southern California the couple will make their first home in San Jose.

Camden students travel to Japan on concert tour

Two Camden High School students will be among the 70 members of the San Jose Youth Symphony going to Japan in August. The two boys--Augie Amato and Tom Armstrong--will be in the group leaving San Jose August 13 for a ten-day concert tour.

The Youth Symphony will present concerts in Tokyo, Kyoto, and Okayama playing for adults and one for children in each of the cities. Tours of the areas near these cities have been arranged for the young people and their adult chaperones.

To help defray expenses of their trip, symphony members are selling recordings of their music. The San Jose City Council voted to give $1,000 toward tour expenses.

Campbell Little League advances to semi-finals

by Doug Brooner

Campbell Little League opened District 44 play last week by winning two games to advance to the semi-finals.

Last Thursday Campbell annihilated Sunnyvale National Little League 19-0 in an awesome display of hitting and pitching.

Mike Sullivan pitched a masterful game throwing a no hitter while striking out 14 of 19 batters faced. Mike was never in trouble, only batter to reach first base was due to a walk in the sixth.

Campbell batters had no problem as they amassed 16 hits with six walks and six errors thrown in. Campbell put the game out of sight in the fifth inning as eight runs crossed the plate thanks to homers by Mike Sullivan and Curt Aure.

Third baseman Mark Izatt led the hitting with three base hits, one a double.

In Saturday's game, Campbell played catch-up and stopped Santa Clara Westside 6-4 on a two hitter by Rey Ybarra.

A hit batsman, walk and a three run homer by S. Geraci put Westside temporarily ahead 3-0 but Campbell pecked away until the top of the fifth, when Tom Mooney singled home two runs, and gained the lead 4-3.

In the sixth Campbell added two more on hits by Kirk Nolte, Mark Izatt, Bob Cirivilleri, and Curt Aure.

Rey Ybarra struck out 11 and made two defensive gems which resulted in one double play and a crucial second out in the sixth. Kirk Nolte was the leading batsman going 3 for 3, one a double.

MORE ABOUT

Recreation program

principle with that approach.

Vice-Mayor Norm Paul, however, felt that the entire project (north and south loops and parking district) should be undertaken at one time on a cooperative "partnership" basis between the property owners and the city.

Councilman Bill Podgorsek maintained that he did not favor financing the project from gas tax money or committing future councils. Councilman Rusty Hammer opo posed using gas tax money for the project and claimed that the loop system was more than a solution to a traffic problem. It definitely aided the property owners involved.

At the meeting on Tuesday, August 7, all the city commissions, property owners within the loop, members of the Downtown Redevelopment Committee and other interested parties will be urged to attend. All the councilmen indicated that they were in need of more "input" from the citizens.

The Citizens Advisory Goals Committee had given the development of the loop system a high priority.

A high priority also was given the employment of a recreation coordinator and the development of a recreation program in Campbell by the goals committee.

The Parks and Recreation Commission has also endorsed the recommendation of the goals group.

A motion by Councilman Rusty Hammer on Monday night directed staff to study the duties, purposes and the costs of a recreation coordinator, was passed by a 4-1 vote with Mayor Chamberlin dissenting. The report will be submitted at the Sept. 11 council meeting.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch said he would vote for the study, as much more information was needed, but he did not favor a complete recreation program at this time.

Councilmen Podgorsek and Hammer both maintained that money should be budgeted this fiscal year for the recreation program and that they thought a recreation coordinator should be employed as soon as possible.

City Manager Bob Stephens suggested that school district cooperation was needed in the field and that the Council should meet with the school board to study a coordinated program involving the schools and the city.

College trustees pass $20.9 million budget

New state funding is reflected in the West Valley College publication budget adopted last Thursday evening by college trustees.

The budget totals $20,940,566, an increase of $31,928 over last year.

Public hearing and final adoption of the budget will take place at the Thursday, August 2, meeting in the new board room at the college's Saratoga campus.

SB6

This year's budget reflects the new state funding, a result of the recently enacted SB6 (this law now lumps a number of separate tax levies available to districts before into one tax rate); an increase in the district's assessed value; a 6.5 per cent across-the-board increase in salaries for employees; and a capital outlay decrease due to a slow down in construction and greater prior year payments.

AVERAGE

Senate Bill 6 lowered West Valley's tax rate by only .3 of a cent. Dr. Leroy Lowery, assistant superintendent for finance, explained that West Valley is an "average wealth" district and the bill was not intended to change these districts.

This year's budget includes a tax levy of 5.3 cents for earthquake safety and a 8.7 cent one-year increase for the proposed parking lot assessment district at Saratoga.

SAFETY

Lowery noted the earthquake safety tax had been available for over eight years and that West Valley had never levied it. The ability to levy this tax will expire in two years and Lowery noted the district could raise approximately $800,000 in that time to use towards the construction of sorely needed facilities to house data processing, community services and continuing education, among others, at the Saratoga campus.

INCREASE

The net increase in the tax rate would be from 90 cents per $100 valuation to 97.9 cents. The major increase is due to the 8.7 cent increase for the proposed parking lot assessment district at the Saratoga campus.

However, the fate of this proposed district is not yet known. Thursday evening trustees responded to suggestions from the Saratoga City Council that the college reduce parking lot No. 3 by 116 spaces. Trustees voted to eliminate 24 parking spaces from the proposed parking lot, which fronts Short Hill Court. (West Valley needs city council approval of the district since the college is not impowered to form such a district.)

The City Council is expected to take up the issue at its July 24 meeting.

If the assessment district is formed the 8.7 cents would be levied for one year. If not, the tax rate would actually drop this year to 89.2 cents, nearly a penny lower than the 1972-73 tax rate.

In other action trustees:

Changed the place of their meetings on the first and third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. to the new governing board room at the Saratoga campus. The board's Aug. 2 meeting will be held in the new complex.

Approved the lease purchase of six of the college's 24 x 48 foot relocatables on the Campbell campus to the Orchard School District; approved a lease with an option to purchase 18 of the district's 10 x 32 foot Modulux units with Scotts Valley Union School District; and a lease with the option to purchase six similar Modulux units with the Loma Prieta Joint Union Elementary School District.

Approved application of a grant for $53,331 to the Inter-Governmental Personnel Act to provide an instructional system for the supervision management center that will permit instruction to be given to small groups of students.

Accepted the classified employees classification and salary study recently completed by a division of the California State Personnel Board.

Approved a food services contract for vending and manual food services with DePaul Automatic Company to run through August of 1974.
